

More fashion on the ramp

TNN Oct 29, 2007, 12.00am IST

FASHION FRAT: Apurv Nagpal, Shatanu, Sanjana, Nikhil and Prasad.(TOI Photo)

The great revivalist Sharbari Dutta's beautiful classical ensembles were a hit with Bangalore's bhadralok.

The India Men's Fashion Fair, on Day Three again did Bangalore proud by bringing in some of the biggest Indian designers on the ramp.

The great revivalist Sharbari Dutta's beautiful classical ensembles were a hit with Bangalore's bhadralok. Then came Vijay Arora who brought in a bit of Bollywood magic with a range of clothes that any screen hero would kill to wear, while Varun Bahl's avant-garde styles were breathtaking and delicate.

The essential purist Lokesh Ahuja wowed audiences with his pared down silhouettes. Raghavendra Rathore's collection had his trademark restrained elegance and attention to detail, while the brothers Shantanu and Nikhil demonstrated why their style is an important chapter in the evolution of Indian fashion with their exquisite range.

Dimple Verma who was declared the rock star of the show for her funky and international collection of Euro chic ensembles you could wear anywhere in the world.

Bangalore also saw superstar Puneet Rajkumar and Suman Ranganathan walk the ramp at the Haywards

Black India Men's Fashion Fair for designers Lokesh Ahuja and Dimple Verma.

The after party hosted by Shadab Hothur was the most rocking do Bangaloreans have seen in a while. He was seen deep in conversation with Raghavendra Rathore obviously ordering his new fall/winter wardrobe.

Also seen hobnobbing at the party was Bhaskar Raju. What Bangalore has been witnessing over the past week were a series of 'got to be there' parties hosted by Jitu Virwani, Noaman Razack and Shadab.

It was another good day for the Fashion Fair with Prasad Bidapa and all the designers having a great time with Chancery Hotel's warm hospitality.